

EFI PETROL ENGINE TEST BED MODEL NO – SL-61, MAKE – LABTEK, ORIGIN – INDIA

The Petrol Engine Test Bed should be supplied complete with EFI petrol engine and transmission with all components necessary for operation. The test bed should be especially designed for teaching diagnosis, tune up, fault finding and trouble shooting. The engine should be mounted on a strong tubular steel frame, powder coated and come complete with instrumentation and accessories thus the unit should be ready to run. Test bed must have capability to connect to a modular dynamometer system for future upgradeability.